Dear Last Name,

My name is Madison Harris and I would like to join Vice Media as a Director of Photography. I have been documenting and telling stories through videos since high school with the goal of educating and expanding people's perspectives. High school was also the same time I discovered Vice Media, I quickly became very drawn to the unique and serious nature of the documentaries I was watching. I believe my passion for storytelling through cinematography makes me the right candidate for this job.

In my previous role as a Cinematographer for the film "ENTER NAME." I actively communicated with the writer/director about their vision to deliver what they wanted. I researched the topic, prepared moodboards, organized shot lists and communicated with the gaffer to develop a lighting plan. Other than cinematographer I also have experience in roles including: Director, Assistant Camera, Best Boy and Production Assistant.

Vice Media has changed my perspective on the world and I believe that Vice strives to tell the truth, which I admire. As someone who strives to expand the mind of viewers and tell the truth within their work, I truly believe that I and Vice Media will be a great match. Thank you for your time, send me an email. I would love to get in touch.

Sincerely,

Madison Harris
